RE: Opposition to Harmful Aspects of the DOF Redevelopment Dissolution Proposal: SB 107

Legislators are being asked to act on a rushed basis without any due process or opportunity to review on SB 107, a 104-page bill that only appeared in print on the last day of session. Based on a quick review of the language this morning by city attorneys, and given that there is an effort to move it quickly with no time for adequate review, the League of California Cities regrets it must remain opposed to harmful aspects of language contained in SB 107.

While the loan repayment provisions in this version may be characterized by some as improvements over the language contained in AB 113, have no doubt it will cause clear and significant financial harm to many cities. And as the attached analysis reveals, even those provisions that may appear to benefit must be reviewed closely.

We urge you check back with your cities to make sure that any new proposals developed affecting loan repayment and interest rates are truly helpful. Redevelopment dissolution has been difficult enough. This is not the time to rush and cut a bad deal.
